ABOUT THE MANUFACTURER

Since being established in 1937 in Chongqing, China, LONCIN has steadily advanced in industry. Initially growing as a components & engine manufacturer. The company went on to develop small displacement motorcycles for its home market. Then brand first gained mainstream public recognition in the west, for producing high-quality yet affordable power equipment engines, generators and agricultural equipment.

By the mid-2000's LONCIN had established itself as one of the "Big Four" Chinese motorcycle manufacturers, growing into a global manufacturing powerhouse. In 2005 a partnership was formed with BMW to produce engines for their F650 & G650 series, built to strict quality standards. This partnership continues to this day, through all previous variants, and on to the production of the current F800 and F900 series.

The years of collaboration with BMW and other western brands, has enhanced high-end production expertise and R&D capabilities. Naturally, LONCIN has established a new R&D team and smart manufacturing lines, under a broader development strategy, culminating in embarking on the creation of a premium ATV & UTV product lineup.

In February 2023, LONCIN launched XWolf and UWolf series. Offering a range of displacements & applications, these products are guided by the market's direction, embodying the spirit of "Explore Your Way."

Looking ahead, LONCIN will continue to refine & launch new products, including agricultural & leisure ATV, UTV, SSV and EV models, constantly filling the market gap and improving it's range.
